

TEN TO WATCH

FLOW

Lara Francis studied music and fine art, but turned to interior design when a friend asked her to redesign a house after seeing Francis's work on her own home. In 2001 she set up Flow, and the company now specialises in bathroom design. 'Bathrooms can be cold and impersonal, so to counteract that I bring more interior design into the room,' says Francis, who often mixes soft furnishings, shapes and textures with imaginative lighting to create her innovative designs.
